

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

Wells Fargo Advantage Outlook 2040 Fund seeks total return for investors retiring in approximately the year 2040. The fund uses an asset allocation approach; a neutral mix would be 100% equities. The allocation changes, becoming more conservative, as the fund nears its maturation. The fund allocates assets among securities contained in various domestic and foreign indexes; it may invest up to 20% of assets in securities traded in foreign markets.

The risk indicator is based on the Fund's asset category. Money market and stable value investments are considered lower risk, fixed-income and balanced fund investments are considered higher risk, and equity investments are considered the highest risk.

Prior to June 26, 2006, the Wells Fargo Advantage Dow Jones Target 2040 Fund was named the Wells Fargo Advantage Outlook 2040 Fund, and prior to April 11, 2005, the Wells Fargo Advantage Outlook 2040 Fund, Administrator Class, was named the Wells Fargo Outlook 2040 Fund, Institutional Class. Performance for Administrator Class of the Fund prior to November 8, 1999, reflects the performance of the Class A shares of the Stagecoach LifePath 2040 Fund, its predecessor fund, and includes fees and expenses that are not applicable to and higher than those of the Administrator Class Shares. Predecessor fund information can be found in the Fund's prospectus, statement of additional information, or annual report.

The Fund's adviser has voluntarily waived all or a portion of its management fees or assumed responsibility for other expenses, which reduces operating expenses and increases total return to shareholders. Without these reductions, the Fund's returns would have been lower. These reductions may be discontinued.

Administrator Class shares are sold without a front-end sales charge or contingent deferred sales charge. Other fees and expenses apply to an investment in the Fund and are described in the Fund's current prospectus.

Risk: Balanced funds may invest in stocks and bonds. Stocks should only be considered for long-term goals as values fluctuate in response to the activities of individual companies and general market and economic conditions. Bond values fluctuate in response to the financial condition of individual issuers, general market and economic conditions, and changes in interest rates. In general, when interest rates rise, bond values fall and investors may lose principal value. Investment strategies that emphasize particular market segments or fewer securities tend to increase the total risk of an investment (relative to the broader market). Wells Fargo Advantage Dow Jones Target 2040 Fund is exposed to Foreign Investment Risk, Small Cap Risk and Mid Cap Risk. Consult the Fund's prospectus for additional information on these and other risks.
